Art Unit: 1645

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-12, 31-36, 39-41, 43-44, and 46-47, drawn to DNA.

Group II, claim(s) 13-21, 37-38, 42, and 45 drawn to proteins.

Group III, claim(s) 22-27 and 30, drawn to methods of inhibiting with DNA molecules.

Group IV, claim(s) 28-29, drawn to methods of inhibiting with protein molecules.

Additionally, as set forth in MPEP 803.04 polynucleotides encoding different sequences are different inventions. Accordingly, Applicants are required to elect a single ricin like toxin A (i.e., ricin A, abrin toxin A, diphtheria toxin A chain, Domain III of Pseudomonas, volvensin toxin A chain, cholera toxin A chain, modeccin toxin A chain, vixcumin toxin A chain, or shiga toxin A chain, and a single ricin like toxin B for examination. Furthermore, also as set forth in MPEP 803.04, up to 10 sequences will normally be searched in a single application. Consequently, Applicants are required to elect up to 10 sequences for examination. The balance will be withdrawn from consideration.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

WO 98/49311 disclose of purified nucleic acids comprising ricin like toxins fused via a cleavage recognition site for a specific protease. Accordingly, unity of invention is deemed to be lacking.

Invention I, drawn to DNA and Invention II drawn to a protein molecule are distinct since they are products with a different structure and biological properties. The protein is made of amino acids whereas the nucleic acid molecule consists of nucleotides. Further methods known in the art used to make the polypeptide require different reagents and parameters from the methods of making the nucleic acid encoding the protein and the method of making the polypeptide does not require the nucleic acid. For instance, the protein can be made by Merrifield chemical synthesis or affinity chromatography.

Invention III and IV, drawn to methods of using the claimed DNA or protein molecules are found to lack a special technical feature in view of the disclosure of the claimed DNA molecule as recited in claim 1.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Reminder Regarding In re Ochiai and *In re Browuer

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where Applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Art Unit: 1645

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 USC 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 USC 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 USC 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP 804.01.
